BUSINESS

Chef Jean-Marie Lacroix wants you to feel comfortable at his LACROIX AT THE RITTENHOUSE, and you will. As you enter, sconces flicker and stone pathways lead to a faux fountain garnished with plump yellow lemons and lush green grass. From your high-backed velvet chair you gaze out at Rittenhouse Square—every diner has a view. Tasting menus are sized to your appetite—petite or business—and the food is delicate and lovingly prepared: cauliflower tartare with toasted almonds, Asian marinated beef tenderloin, hazelnut-crusted asparagus, and quail stuffed with wild mushrooms. And when you end a meal with a handcrafted chocolate from the in-house confiserie, life is sweet. 210 West Rittenhouse Square 215-790-2533
