

July 15, 2004

Travel Feature

Pet-Friendly Hotels

Christina Valhouli

The Rittenhouse Hotel will appeal to high-maintenance pets and their owners. The hotel will prepare pet meals to specific temperature and measurement (down to the bite) at guests' request, and nothing is out of bounds. When TV's Lassie stayed at the Rittenhouse, she required boiled chicken cut into one-inch cubes, which could only be boiled in distilled water. Drinking water had to be distilled water that was 40 degrees. Pets are provided with Fido or Fluffy pet bowls, and the bellman leads dog walks in the park. Rates start at $230.

For more information, visit www.rittenhousehotel.com or call (215) 546-9000.