

Sitting Pretty

Even the best meal suffers if you're squirming on a hard wooden seat. To find the most comfortable—and stylish—chairs, we asked critics in cities across the country to pick their favorites

"People buy the kind of chairs they see in hotel lobbies because they think they're going to be comfortable, but they usually aren't. These are an exception. They're covered in plush velvet and are just the right height. You really don't want to get up once you're in one."
